DEVIA NCE 2010

CbN | Galerie City by Night is a new conceptual online art space run by Berlin-based visual art collective 42live. It is a new and unique approach in which the virtual space is run like a curated physical art space but with none of the constraints that apply to street galleries. Exhibitions at CbN are held 10-12 times a year and there will be various real life events related to these in the near future. The concept of real and virtual art space has been turned on its head!

"DEVIANCE 2010" is the first in a series of conceptual online-only exhibitions to be brought to you by CbN. The four artists represent a wide variety of visual art forms but have a common denominator in their un-conventional approach to various topics, their sense of quality in their work and their presence on the Net. From film, via photography and stencil art and back to animation but in a different domain, these works represent (albeit a fraction) of a new breed of artists, unbound by physical media and common conventions.

Ranging from Mircea Purdea's philosophical short film "Liminal Introspect" which is also showing on numerous film festivals, including this year's Filmfest Dresden, via Vitaly Bakhvalov's dark and sophisticated photography bordering on the surreal and Taiwanese street artist Colasa's edgy stencil projects, to John David Heptinstall's flash animations - the "DEVIANCE 2010" exhibition is a small slice of the visual art coming from a new breed of young talented artists!
